PROSECUTION'S CASE AGAINST STRIKERS IS SHOWN IN AFFIDAVITS

Alleged Scheme of Blacklisting, Intimidation and Coercion of Plantation Lunas Fully Set Forth.

Tangible and convincing evidence of the widespread conspiracy that has existed among the members of the Higher Wage Association to enforce their demands at any cost, were produced by Attorney General Hemenway and the associate counsel for the prosecution yesterday in connection with the motion to set for immediate trial the cases against Jotaro Mikawa and twelve other Japanese charged with riot in connection with the gathering at Waipahu on June 8th. The motion was made before Judge Robinson and attached to it are affidavits and translations from the Nippu Jiji, sufficient it would seem to show the existence of the concerted plan contended for by the prosecution.

The first affidavit is by a Japanese plantation clerk and interpreter who has aroused the enmity of the Association, and is as follows:

Threats Were Made.

A. Shimizu, in an affidavit, states: That he is in the employ of the Oahu Sugar Company, and has been for about four years last past, being employed by said plantation as interpreter and clerk; that affiant is one of six men named in an article appearing in the Nippu Jiji under its issue of May 4, 1909, as sycophants to be ostracized and got rid of by adherents of the Higher Wage Association; that he is also the Shimizu named in an article appearing in the Nippu Jiji of April 26, 1909, wherein one Shimizu and a photographer named Morita are described as "Generals of Sycophants"; that he is the Shimizu described and named in an article appearing in the Nippu Jiji of May 17, 1909, wherein it is declared that upon a vote among the laborers at Waipahu he, Shimizu, received the second highest vote as a sycophant, and wherein it was declared that affiant had resigned the day before the article in question was written, and that he is the Shimizu named in an article appearing in the Nippu Jiji of May 17, 1909, entitled "Interpreter Shimizu Resigned," affiant attaching hereto translations of all of the articles referred to by him.

That from the time the Nippu Jiji commenced its attack upon affiant to this day he has been in fear at all times of the leaders of the Higher Wage Association, and that this fear of affiant continues to this day and now exists.

Affiant further states that a few days after the strike had been commenced at Waipahu, one Mitsunaga, the editor of the Waipahu News, and Hata, president of the Waipahu branch of the Higher Wage Association, waited upon him and told him that he had better leave Waipahu quickly or "something bad would happen to him"; that affiant understood and has a right to understand from the notice thus served upon him and from the articles appearing in the Jiji as aforesaid, that he was in danger of his life if he did not obey this order, whereupon affiant informed Mr. Bull, manager of the Oahu Sugar Company, his employer, that he could no longer remain on the plantation, as his life was in danger, whereupon the said manager told affiant to withdraw and go to Honolulu, where he could remain hidden away until such time as it was safe for him to return to the plantation.

or to examine or inspect books, papers, or accounts, except under the conditions and with the forms prescribed by the laws, ordinances and regulations for citizens or subjects of the country."

The fourth amendment to the Constitution of the United States reads as follows:

"The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized."

PLAN TO WELCOME RETURN OF JICHII

A meeting of the entertainment committees among the Japanese for entertaining the officers and crew of the Japanese cruisers Aso and Soya, was held on Sunday evening, about twenty members being present. M. Tokeida, chairman of the general committee, was given charge of matters, and when the squadron arrives he will accompany His Imperial Japanese Majesty's Consul, Mr. Uyeno, aboard the flagship to welcome the Admiral.

On the dock a lot of fireworks will be discharged, those of the daylight variety. Just what is to be done ashore for the officers and crew has not been altogether mapped out.

The squadron is due to arrive tomorrow from the Sound.

ASSISTANT POSTMASTER INDICTED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

Deputy United States Marshal Bruns left for Kauai last evening for Kekaha to arrest and bring to Honolulu Jakob J. Hiorth, assistant postmaster at Kekaha, investigations by the post-office authorities here causing his arrest on a charge of embezzlement of public moneys entrusted to his charge. An indictment was returned against him by the Federal Grand Jury yesterday.

According to the warrant he is charged with being short $941.34, belonging to the money order department funds.

The defaulting official is assistant to Eric Knudsen, senator from Kauai, who is now in New York. He has been called to Mr. Knudsen's under bonds and is therefore responsible for the amount short by his assistant to the United States Government. Hiorth is also manager of the Kekaha general store and is well known in Honolulu.

WOULD CREATE A NEW OFFICE

Ordinance to Provide Plumbing Inspector Is Before the Supervisors.

Chairman Aylett of the Health Committee of the Board of Supervisors sprang a sort of an ill-timed bombshell on the members of the board last evening when he pompously announced that he had a new ordinance to propose for consideration. He had a typewritten draft of the ordinance, which he forthwith handed to Acting Secretary Buf. fandeau to read.

The ordinance provided for the appointment of a city and county plumbing inspector, also certain rules for the installation and maintenance of all plumbing. It provided that all plumbers should register with the inspector, should pay a license of $25, and should put up a bond of $500. It also provided that all plans for plumbing work be deposited with the inspector, and that a charge of $2 be made for each permit issued.

It was not expected that this matter would come before the board last night, and not only were the members not ready to consider the ordinance but the ordinance was not ready for their consideration. It still has to be looked over by the City Attorney. The ordinance was finally referred back to the Health Committee.

Appointments Are Deferred.

Mayor Fern brought up the matter of his appointments to the offices of milk inspector and city physician, but Aylett leaped to the fore and moved that the board defer action on these

BOUGHT A MAYOR TO HAVE AN AUTO

The Honorable Jim Quinn, Supervisor, has a new automobile; the Honorable Joe Fern, Mayor, has not. The Honorable Jim bought his buzz-buggy yesterday; the Honorable Joe will get his tomorrow—maybe. Supervisor Quinn's machine is the latest model, seven-seated Thomas Flyer; Mayor Fern isn't sure yet, but that his will be a plain, old-fashioned, sixty-five seated street-car. And there ye are.

Tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock The Board will meet in committee of the whole, or caucus, when the much talked-about Appropriation Bill will be taken up, and, incidentally, the Mayor's request for an automobile.

Chairman Logan of the Ways and Means Committee had a sinister look on his face when he handed in the report regarding the automatically-propelled wagon in which His Honor has contemplated, perhaps, taking "joyrides" on the pleasant moonlit evenings. The report said:

"Your Committee on Ways and Means, to whom the Mayor's requisition for an automobile was referred, beg to report:

"We have had the matter under consideration without coming to a decision, and would recommend that it be considered in committee of the whole, or caucus, along with the Appropriation Bill."

It was voted that the report be accepted, and consequently the Mayor will know his fate regarding the automobile tomorrow afternoon when the committee of the whole goes into session.

NEW CANNING COMPANY INSTALLING MACHINERY

Machinery capable of turning out 20,000 cases of pineapples a season is being installed at Ahuimannu, Kooloa, by Manager Staff, who has charge of the new pineapple plantation there. Some of the machinery is being placed and the cannery will be ready for the first crop in due time.

The Ahuimannu pines grow differently to those at Wahiawa, and the cannery will not be rushed to death for two or three months, as at Wahiawa, but will be handling the crop during a six or seven months' period. The cool weather at Wahiawa is said to retard the development of the pines during the winter season, while at Kooloa the weather is so similar month in and month out that the growth of pines is steady. Therefore pines will be ripening through a long period, and the present cannery will be of sufficient capacity to handle the output easily.

Ripe pines are now coming into town from Ahuimannu, and they are pronounced to be of fine, luscious quality.

MALIHINI SAVES YOUNG LAD'S LIFE

Walter Kier Leaps Into Nuuanu
Stream and Rescues a Hawaiian Boy.

Plunging from the embankment at the corner of King and River streets into the waters of Nuuanu stream, Walter Kier was the one man out of a crowd who dared to risk his life for that of a little Hawaiian lad who was all but drowning. It happened yesterday, about three-thirty in the afternoon, and there was considerable excitement in the vicinity of the Fish-market and along River street for a while.

Kier wanted to remain unknown, and refused to give his name to several people. The little lad who came so close to crossing the Great Divide by the drowning route was swimming in the stream and was seized with cramps in his legs. There were a number of people passing by on the bridge overhead and the cries of the small boy were heard by some of them.

They took little heed of them, however, apparently thinking that the boy was "making fun," or just playing. It remained for Walter Kier to realize the seriousness of the case, for he saw, when the boy went beneath the surface once, that no time was to be lost. Without waiting to doff shoes, coat, or any other garments, Kier sprang from the embankment into the stream and swam immediately to the lad, who was going down for his last time.

It took him only a minute to pull the little chap to safety on shore, where the cramps were soon rubbed out of his legs. Kier made off as soon as possible, stating to a number of questioners that he "had no name." He did not look for the credit which he deserves in taking the initiative at a time when seconds were valuable. He did not appear to be known in the city, all information at hand seeming to show that he is a stranger here.

DEATH SENTENCE OF KALEIKINI COMMUTED

Governor Frear yesterday commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence imposed on George Kaleikini the Hawaiian who was convicted of murdering his wife at Kalihi in August of last year.

Kaleikini owes his life to the fact that Governor Frear became convinced that he was not of sound mind when he committed the murder, a conclusion which was based in some degree on the statement that was made by the convicted man's aged father.

Kaleikini's death warrant has been on Governor Frear's desk for several weeks and the Chief Executive reached his final decision on the case yesterday. Instead of being hanged by the neck until he is dead, as the law decreed, the clemency of the Governor will allow Kaleikini to remain for the balance of his life behind the walls of Oahu prison.

BANZAI SALOON GRANTED A RENEWAL OF LICENSE

The Oahu Board of License Commissioners experienced a change of heart yesterday afternoon at a special meeting called for the purpose of reconsidering the matter of a renewal of liquor license for the Banzai saloon. K. Ono, proprietor, appeared before the Board. The application for renewal of this license was turned down by the Board when it first came up, on the grounds that the management was lax and that the saloon was badly located. Ono stated to the Board that, owing to his ill-health, he had been compelled to be away a great deal of the time in the past and consequently had to leave the management of his emporium in other hands. This, however, he stated, would not be the case in the future, as he has recovered his health and will manage the Banzai personally. On the showing he made, the Commissioners revoked their former action and Ono's application for a renewal of license was granted.
